Criteria for involuntary
admission.

8. (1) A person may only be admitted involuntarily to a licensed facility or, having already been admitted voluntarily, be detained as an involuntary patient in such facility if a specialist certifies that such person:

- (a) has a severe mental disorder, and
- (b) due to the mental disorder, there is a serious risk of physical harm to that person or to other persons, and
- (c) failure to admit or detain that person is likely to lead to a serious deterioration in his condition or will prevent the administration of appropriate treatment that can not be given in the community:

Provided that in case of emergency when there is a serious likelihood of immediate physical harm to the person or to third parties, a reasonable suspicion of severe mental disorder shall suffice.

(2) A person requiring custodial care only shall not be kept in a licensed facility as an involuntary patient.

(3) A person shall not be admitted to a licensed facility if other less restrictive alternatives such as community care can be utilised.

9. (1) Prior to an involuntary admission for observation, an initial medical assessment shall be made by two medical practitioners, one of whom shall be a specialist, within a maximum of seventy-two hours from each other and who shall fill the recommendation in Part (A) of the application form for involuntary admission in accordance with the Second Schedule. In the case of a discrepancy between the two assessments, a third independent assessment by a specialist in mental health shall be carried out and then the majority recommendation shall prevail.

Involuntary admission for observation - medical recommendation.

(2) In case of emergency, when there is a serious likelihood of immediate physical harm to the person or to third parties, an initial single medical assessment shall suffice for the purpose of application for involuntary admission for observation. The second medical assessment by a specialist in mental health shall be carried out within twenty-four hours of admission to the licensed facility.

Emergency admission for observation - medical recommendation.

(3) No involuntary treatment shall be given before the second assessment has been carried out unless it is emergency treatment meant solely to prevent physical harm to the patient or others or to prevent mental deterioration.

Urgent treatment in an emergency.

10. (1) No application for involuntary admission for observation can be made unless the medical assessment has been carried out and the medical recommendation for admission filled in.

Application for involuntary admission for observation.

C 340

(2) An application for involuntary admission for observation shall be made by the responsible carer who shall fill Part (B) of the application form for involuntary admission in accordance with the Second Schedule, failing which or when the responsible carer explicitly refuses consent for such involuntary admission, a mental welfare officer may make such an application certifying on Part (C) of the application form that he is satisfied that such an application ought to be made and is of the opinion that there are valid reasons for involuntary admission to a licensed facility and that care can not be safely given in the community. If the mental welfare officer is of the opinion that such involuntary admission is not justified, he shall fill the relevant part of the application form giving reasons for his disagreement, provided that such disagreement shall not prevent or delay the involuntary admission for observation.

(3) The application form shall be forwarded to the Commissioner by the clinical director within forty-eight hours from the person being admitted.

Involuntary admission for observation.

11. (1) When a person is admitted and detained in a licensed facility as an involuntary patient he shall be initially detained therein for a period of observation not exceeding two hundred and forty hours from the time of admission in the licensed facility within which urgent treatment may be given:

Provided that an assessment by a specialist in mental health shall be carried out within twenty-four hours from the time of admission to the licensed facility and that any issues of immediate concern are dealt with promptly and expediently.

(2) After the lapse of the observation period the patient shall either be discharged or detained as a voluntary patient unless articles 12 or 17 have been applied in which case the patient can be detained involuntarily until a decision of the Commissioner is taken.

Application for Involuntary Admission for Treatment Order.

12. (1) If within the period of observation it becomes evident to the multidisciplinary team that the patient requires involuntary admission beyond the observation period for therapeutic reasons, an application for an Involuntary Admission for Treatment Order shall be made to the Commissioner by the responsible specialist on the specified form in accordance with the Third Schedule, supported by a multidisciplinary care plan outlining the patient's needs, how and by whom these will be addressed, specifying expected outcomes and timeframes:

Provided that healthcare professionals making treatment or care decisions as part of the multidisciplinary care plan shall only do this within their professional scope of practice.

(2) The Commissioner shall within one hundred and twenty hours of receipt of the application referred to in subarticle (1):

(a) interview the person, and if required and as necessary, interview also, together or separately, any or all of the members of the multidisciplinary team and the responsible carer, in order to verify that the involuntary admission is appropriate and that a care plan has been submitted;

(b) approve or otherwise the application.

(3) An Involuntary Admission for Treatment Order shall not exceed ten weeks after the lapse of the initial period of observation.

13. (1) An Involuntary Admission for Treatment Order may be extended for a further period not exceeding five weeks as approved by the Commissioner following an application by the responsible specialist.

Extension of Involuntary
Admission for Treatment
Order.

(2) An application for extension of Involuntary Admission for Treatment Order in accordance with the Fourth Schedule shall be submitted by the responsible specialist to the Commissioner at least one hundred and sixty-eight hours before the termination of the initial period of involuntary admission for treatment giving specific reasons for the extension and any modification of the care plan.

(3) (a) Before granting any extension the Commissioner shall investigate whether the criteria for involuntary admission are still operative and whether there was any failure by any healthcare professional in not attaining the desired outcomes as a result of not abiding by established patient management protocols and, or the multidisciplinary care plan submitted by the team.

(b) In those cases where the Commissioner is satisfied that the necessity for the extension results from a failure from any healthcare professional in not abiding to established patient management protocols and, or to the submitted multidisciplinary care plan, the Commissioner shall make any recommendations he deems necessary and take such actions against any healthcare professional as provided by or under this Act.

(4) No further extension of involuntary admission and treatment is allowed beyond the extension granted by the Commissioner under subarticle (1):

C 342

Continuing Detention
Order.

Provided that upon the application of the responsible specialist for a Continuing Detention Order on the prescribed form in accordance with the Fifth Schedule, if the Commissioner is satisfied, after an independent review by a specialist, that the person still has a mental disorder that requires treatment and should continue to be detained for his own safety or that of others, and that no other less restrictive way would achieve the best possible outcome for that person and his safety and, or the protection of the public, the Commissioner may grant a Continuing Detention Order for a maximum period of six months which may be renewed for further periods of up to six months after a new application accompanied by a modified multidisciplinary care plan is submitted to the Commissioner.

case of
admission.

14. Prior to the administration of any treatment, informed consent shall be given by the patient and in those cases where the patient lacks the mental capacity to give consent, such consent shall be obtained from the responsible carer:

Provided that if the patient refuses to give consent, treatment can be given to prevent physical harm to self or others or to prevent mental deterioration and notes to this effect shall be entered in the person's clinical records:

Provided further that if the responsible carer cannot be traced or refuses to give consent, treatment can be given to prevent physical harm to self or others or to prevent mental deterioration and notes to this effect shall be entered in the person's clinical records and in such cases measures to replace the responsible carer in terms of article 4 may be taken.

Release from
involuntary
admission for
treatment.

15. (1) If the patient's mental health status improves and the criteria for involuntary admission and treatment cease to exist either during the period of involuntary admission, or at the end of the approved involuntary treatment period, as the case may be, the responsible specialist shall immediately request the Commissioner on the prescribed form in accordance with the Sixth Schedule to release the patient from the Involuntary Admission for Treatment Order or the Continuing Detention Order.

(2) On release from the Involuntary Admission for Treatment Order or the Continuing Detention Order the patient shall attain all the rights related to a voluntary admission.

community under a care plan that helps the person to live and integrate in the community.

(2) The Community Treatment Order shall allow for treatment, care and management of a person with a mental disorder to be provided in the community by healthcare professionals as nominated in the care plan.

(3) A person who is subject to a Community Treatment Order shall be required to undergo the authorised treatment, failing which, he may be liable to the issue of a Conveyance Order as provided under article 21 of this Act.

(4) A Community Treatment Order shall be granted by the Commissioner in respect of a person living in the community or a patient receiving voluntary or involuntary treatment in a licensed facility, if after receiving the relevant application in accordance with the Seventh Schedule he is satisfied that:

(c) the person should be given treatment for the illness in the interest of his own safety or for the protection of others; and

(d) the treatment required for the person can be safely provided in the community.

(5) After granting a Community Treatment Order, the Commissioner shall inform in writing the person and his responsible carer about the Order.

(6) Upon request from a person who is receiving treatment under a Community Treatment Order in the private healthcare sector or his responsible carer, the Commissioner may direct the clinical director responsible for psychiatric care in the public sector to arrange for such treatment to be provided in the public sector under the same conditions under which treatment is provided in the said sector, if in the opinion of the Commissioner the person lacks the financial means for private treatment, provided that such treatment is available in the public sector.
